BIG AFTER-INVENTORY SALE

Sam B. Wilson's Store the Mecca of a Crowd of Bargain Hunters.

The Eagle reporter dropped into the store of Sam B. Wilson this morning to inquire as to the opening of his big after-inventory sale. The store was wedged, jammed and packed from one end to the other with shoppers and it required some little time to find the proprietor so great was the crowd.

When we did find him he was as busy as a bee in a tar bucket trying to wait on four or five customers at the same time.

"How are you pleased with the opening, Mr. Wilson?" was our greeting. He only took time to slightly expand his broad smile that won't come off and say: "The greatest ever known in Bryan. Far exceeds all our expectations." And in truth the crowds the pushing, jostling and hurrying to get waited on literally bore out his statements.

The opening was indeed fine. The crowd was large and enthusiastic, and the many expressions of satisfaction and pleasure by the customers at the bargains obtained bore out the statement that it was a real feast of bargains.

The thousands of articles, the prices of which have been slaughtered, are displayed so all can inspect them and are marked in plain figures.

A large force of extra salespeople has been employed so that all shoppers may be waited on promptly.

The sale has indeed opened under most favorable auspices and will continue until Wednesday, January 31.

Little Boy Shot.

The little son of Tony Scanli-Alto, living on the John K. Parker farm in the bottom, was accidentally shot in the breast this morning. It was impossible to learn the seriousness of the wound. Dr. W. H. Oliver went out this afternoon to render him medical attention.

Card of Thanks.

Mrs. W. G. Taliaferro, president of the Daughters of the Confederacy, desires to thank the ladies, young ladies and all others who aided in making so decided a success of the Lee and Jackson Day celebration.

Business Good.

There was a fairly good-sized crowd in town today, all things considered, and business in all lines was active. The people of Brazos county are in good condition, and when the weather becomes settled and other things return to normal condition everything will move right on as of yore.

Concentration Pays

The stream flows along steadily, its waters are placid, its flow uninterrupted. It may be majestic enough but its power is not used. But put in a big dam, let the waters accumulate, then the power is at command. The same waters flow down the stream but by concentration the power is developed.

It is the same with money. Single dollars floating around will never control big deals, yet concentrated in a bank their power is developed. They aid new enterprises, give energy and stability to business, become a new power in the business world, and yet like the water in the stream, their flow is not interrupted. The money is subject to the depositor's check. Help us make this a stronger bank. You will share in the benefit.
